All Seasonings to Build New Addition

November 15, 2007, Oneida, NY: All Seasonings, Inc. is pleased to announce the ground breaking of a new 1600 square ft. addition on their state of the art facility that was built in May of 2005. In the last year All Seasonings has seen significant growth in every aspect of the food industry and needs more space to handle the demand for their high quality spices and production of their custom and proprietary blends.

Other News at All Seasonings – The owner of All Seasonings, Inc. is purchasing the land adjacent to their current facility and is researching the possibility of becoming Certified Organic, which is a very lengthy process. Certified Organic spices would be offered in addition to what All Seasonings, Inc. is currently selling their customers. All Seasonings, Inc. sees Certified Organic spices as an untapped niche in the food industry.
